Prefabricated means precise

A modern, sustainable and healthy range of cabins that are precisely built as single transportable modules in our specialised manufacturing facility. These modules benefit from the controlled manufacturing process, saving on build time and exposure to weather, so your building is delivered with all of the hard work done.

Efficient & Sustainable

All Timberset buildings are designed, manufactured and built to deliver a high performing and energy efficient dwelling that's economical to run. Built with sustainable plantation timber, you won't find a more environmentally friendly way to build. Plus you will enjoy the numerous health and wellbeing benefits that a solid timber home provides. Perfect in any setting, from suburban blocks to country retreats, and suitable for locations with limited access to utilities, or for "off-grid" builds.

Private or Commercial Use

Timberset can supply single cabins for the private buyer or multiple versions to suit holiday parks, eco resorts and similar applications.
